GUTTAROLO

Gioia del Colle, Puglia

Cristiano Guttarolo's wines are unlike any others from Puglia.

Cristiano's masseria can be found just outside the village of Gioia del Colle, where his seven hectares of vineyards and old olive trees are planted some four hundred metres above sea level over the rugged terrain of the Murge Plateau.

Here, daytime temperatures are cooler than usual thanks to a strong breeze from the Adriatic, and the site's elevation brings fresh evenings. The unique landscape produces wines that are thrillingly unique. Heady with wild, sunkissed fruit, the limestone of the karst imparts a luminous quality, whilst the unique climate allows them to retain a lightness so often missing in this part of the world.

In the vines, Cristiano takes a decidedly hands-off approach. Working organically and eschewing the use of chemicals, he prefers to let wild herbs and flowers grow for much of the year and as a result the farm teems with life.

In the cantina, he works in the simplest of fashions, bottling his wines with no additions in the spring following the harvest, in the hope of capturing the energy of the place he calls home.

Primitivo from Cristiano's oldest vines, which are around fifty years old. Here the grapes were destemmed and macerated for three weeks, before being pressed to large porcelain amphorae for a year of rest. Heady with blackcurrant, earth, herbs and brine, a trio of tannin, flesh and acid brings no shortage of refreshment, making this the perfect foil to whatever cuts are coming off the grill.
