

TUTTO

FRÉDÉRIC COSSARD

Saint-Romain, Bourgogne

Frédéric Cossard is a larger than life character. He is a man with an infectious joie de vivre, with a real passion for life and a love of wine that runs deep. Fred wasn't born into a family of vigneronns and so had to start from scratch, no mean feat in Burgundy. Domaine de Chassorney was born in 1996 with a few hectares of vines rented in Saint Romain and Auxey Duresses and now comprises ten hectares of vines across several villages. He also acts as a négociant, which gives him access to fruit from some of the greatest vineyards in Burgundy. These wines are bottled eponymously, as 'Frédéric Cossard'.

The Cossards have worked organically from the outset and now focus on homeopathic treatments and remedies tailored to the needs of each site. When fruit is bought, they give the growers a guide for looking after the vines and join them in the vineyards to ensure that work is carried out to their own lofty standards. In doing so they ensure that only the most pristine fruit makes it to their cellars tucked away amongst the limestone cliffs of Saint-Romain.

Such scrutiny is necessary to make great wine with no additions. In recent years Fred has continued to pave the way by eschewing the use of oak barrels in favour of concrete eggs, earthenware jars and Georgian qvevris in a quest to further refine his wines. Whites are pressed directly, while reds infuse as whole bunches before being pressed off to these vessels for élevage. The result is Burgundy of rare liveliness, purity and detail.

FRÉDÉRIC COSSARD
Saint-Romain, Bourgogne

SANTENAY 1<sup>ER</sup> CRU PASSETEMPS
2020

Pinot Noir from a thirty year old parcel that has been farmed organically from the outset, planted in this premier cru in the region's south, which has become a bit of an insider's go-to for outstanding quality in a less fashionable appellation. This possesses an explosive nose, a wonderful perfume of dark berries and earth and soft, even tannins that make it open and accessible even in its youth.